

Dear Jonathan,

First, congratulations on a couple great websites!

I am quite pleased with how they have turned out.

I appreciate all your hard work on this project...especially as I inserted a new voice into the mix.

This website is a very meaningful part of our communication strategy, so I can't stress how important it has been to produce a world-class site.

We have achieved this I believe, and you and your team should be quite proud.

Best regards,

Steven
